

January IN SOUTHERN PINES... Town Information & Activities

If one of your 2023 resolutions is to read more, we can help you with that! Our Library offers three monthly book clubs and we'd love to read along with you! Contact the club's designated librarian to learn more, including the assigned books (each club reads a different book).

Whitehall Book Club meets the 3rd Wednesday at 2p at the Whitehall House
Missy at mmiller@sppl.net

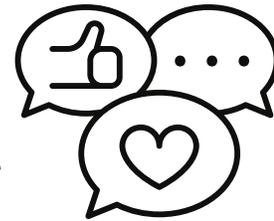

Read Between the Pines meets the 3rd Thursday at 5p at the Library
Mary at mhoward@sppl.net

E.S. Douglass Center Book Club meets the last Thursday at 10:30a at DCC
Missy at mmiller@sppl.net

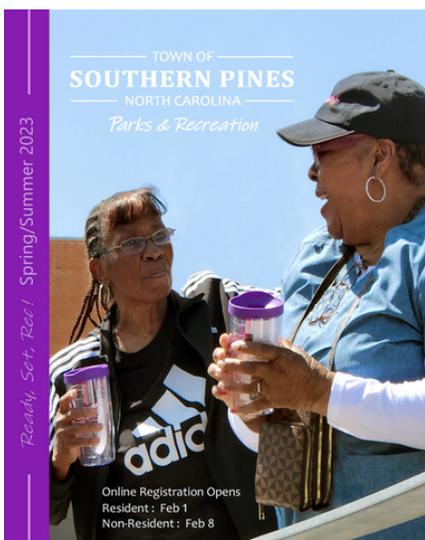

Babies for Beginners is a fun, informative event our Library has planned for parents and caregivers of babies and infants. Join us on Saturday, January 28th from 11-2 to learn about infant CPR, tips for early literacy and brain building, and available community resources. We'll send you home with a free board book to share with your young one! We think you'll also love our weekly SPARK Baby Storytime for birth to age 2. We meet on Tuesday afternoons at 2:30 inside Fire Station #82, where there's always a chance to see the fire trucks!

We've been gathering community input and reviewing the existing conditions in Southern Pines to develop the Town's next CLRP (that's planner speak for our community vision plan and long-range goals). Based on what we've learned, our project team has identified different conceptual scenarios as well as key decision points important to planning the Town's future. To learn more, please join us for the Growth Choices Workshop on Thursday, January 26th at 6pm at the E.S. Douglass Community Center. We'll share these scenarios and the next steps in completing the CLRP.

Parks & Rec Programs: Spring & Summer 2023

Production is underway for our Spring & Summer 2023 offerings. You don't want to miss all the amazing programs your talented Parks & Recreation staff have coming your way! From cooking camps to yoga and t-ball to senior trips, we have you covered for all your recreational needs! Registration for Southern Pines residents opens a week earlier than for other participants. Mark your calendar for February 1st and register online at bit.ly/sp_parks_rec

Did you know we have a youth financial assistance program for athletics and recreation activities? We never want family income to be a barrier for participation. Contact our Parks & Recreation staff at 910-692-2463 to learn more about the qualifications.

Odorless and colorless carbon monoxide is known as the invisible killer. Incidents are more common in the cold months, especially in residential properties. Heating and cooking equipment are potential sources, even when you think your appliances are working fine. Protect yourself by installing carbon monoxide detectors between the appliances and the sleeping areas and then test the batteries monthly.
