

Meet Local Authors at Pages of the Pines

The Sandhills is home to many talented local authors, and the Pages of the Pines Festival is your chance to meet them! This year, the Southern Pines Public Library is partnering with the Weymouth Center for the Arts and Humanities to bring you two amazing events celebrating authors. The Southern Pines Public Library will be hosting authors for teens and adults on Saturday, March 21st from 10am-2pm. From 10am-12pm, children's book authors will be at the Boyd House at Weymouth for their special Spring Into Reading event. Visit both locations, meet the authors, chat with them about their work, and maybe even purchase a signed book!

To round out the festival day, join NYT bestselling author, Meagan Church, for a special author chat at the library. Meagan is the author of The Last Carolina Girl, The Girls We Sent Away, and most recently, The Mad Wife. This will be a unique chance to hear Meagan discuss her work, her life as an author, and ask questions. The Country Bookshop will have a selection of her books available for sale-- don't miss your chance to purchase a signed copy!
